In response to your request, please be advised that we do not provide direct service, and our agency is not an option for use as an address upon your release from the corrections center. We can supply information and referrals to organizations that may assist you upon your release. Enclosed you will find the following related to the King County area:

- A list of programs and agencies that help those with a prior criminal offense transition back into the community and may help with basic needs: housing, employment, and transitional support.
- Brochures listing South King County and/or Seattle Emergency Services.

Please keep in mind that the resource information being supplied can change at any time. Certain agencies have restrictions based on the nature of the prior offense, read all eligibility instructions carefully before applying. Upon your release, please feel free to contact us at the number listed above to verify information or if you need to obtain additional referrals. You can also access our comprehensive database of social and health service agencies through our website, <https://www.crisisconnections.org/get-help/community-resources-online/> using a computer at a local library.

Good luck to you!

OXFORD HOUSES

Days/Hours: Hours vary.

Description: Operates low-cost, clean, and sober housing for those in recovery, providing separate houses for single men and women. Also, maintains limited properties for single adults with children. Housing sites are peer-run with voluntary assistance. Individuals living in a house are expected to participate in community recovery programs during their residence. Houses operate democratically, electing house officers who serve six-month terms. Any resident who relapses is immediately expelled. Residents may live in Oxford House for as long as they want, provided they follow house rules.

Eligibility: It is suggested but not required that individuals have completed inpatient substance use disorder treatment, a 10-day detoxification program with intense outpatient treatment or have 30 days of being clean and sober. Must be willing to accept the house rules and expectations and be able to pay their equal share of household expenses. Maintains houses for single men and others for single women, no co-ed housing. Limited housing for single adults with children. May take those with criminal history, will not accept clients with previous convictions of arson or sex offenses. May accept women fleeing domestic violence if they meet all other eligibility requirements.

To Apply: Visit website to use the geographic housing locator. Locator can also limit searches to show only houses with vacancies as well as houses for men, women, and houses that accept children. If an individual is interested in living in an Oxford House they can apply directly to the house of their choice. If there are vacancies, an interview will be scheduled. The interview with an applicant involves all members of the House. Eighty percent of the members must vote to accept the applicant as a roommate. Those who need additional help selecting a house can call one of the Oxford House outreach workers.

Fees: Houses are financially self-supporting; members split house expenses. The average cost is $275 to $650 per person, per month.
